LEAN STARTUP PRINCIPLES

In this fast-changing world of disruptive technologies, new business models and shorter product development cycles, traditional businesses who fail to adapt put themselves at risk. Big companies like Kodak, Blockbuster and Nokia are struggling or have failed, while startups like Airbnb and Uber have become commonplace in our lives.

In this workshop, you will learn the underlying methodology behind their success:

- Entrepreneurial thinking and techniques used by successful disruptive startups
- Lean Startup Principles, design thinking and agile development
- Common pitfalls for business innovation
- How to test new business ideas without the need for extra budget
- How an intrapreneur can effectively manage an innovation accounting process
- And tailored for our region: Some of the customer discovery techniques in Southeast Asia
